Internships & Placements

On-the-Job Training (OJT) — Industry Practice Built In

What is OJT and why is it different?

OJT is not a final-year internship — it is a mandatory, credit-bearing component in Semesters II, III, and IV. Students are placed with verified finance employers in audit, banking, corporate finance, or wealth management. Assignments are jointly assessed by the employer and the university, and results appear on the degree transcript. Every MAF graduate leaves with a documented professional track record — not just a degree.

Placement Assistance

MAF graduates enter the market with postgraduate credentials, ACCA exemptions, CFP grounding, and verified OJT experience — a combination that opens senior-track and specialist roles from the first year of employment.
